TUGEV The Tourism Development & Education Foundation

The Tourism Development and Education Foundation (TUGEV) was established in 1984 with goals that are aimed towards actualizing the potential of the tourism sector in Turkey, creating new potentials, increasing the industry's contribution to the Turkish economy, contributing towards long and short term tourism policy planning, and assisting the organization in its efforts to fulfill these goals. According to Cabinet Council decision number 84/8256, the foundation is nontaxable. In the wake of its establishment, TUGEV has launched consultation services and joint project works with international educational institutions and foreign experts. The proposed initiatives on tourism education in Turkey were adopted by all levels of educational institutions and broad activities were carried out with the cooperation of schools and the industry itself. The Ministry of Culture and Tourism built the OTEM Hotel Management and Educational Center in Kemer, Antalya and granted the facility to TUGEV. Between 1987 and 1993, the center became a modern, internationally recognized educational institution focused on tourism education, which was later the reference for other tourism and hotel management educational institutions in Turkey. Considering the international developments in the sector, TUGEV determined the necessity of organizing for regional promotion and established İstanbul Convention & Visitors Bureau in 1997, the first regional promotion organization in Turkey.

Close your eyes... Imagine yourself in a city. On your left side ancient walls built during Byzantium days lasting tens of kilometers is spreading its arms... On your right side; a tower dating back hundreds of years glimpses its eyes from the middle of a blue sea. Resembling an open air museum with marvelous arches, magnificent mosques, glorious churches around your eyesight... If you step under the terra, a cisterna with charming columns and attractive Medusa is waiting for you with curiosity. All these historical areas are hidden in Istanbul. The city harmonizes the ancient aspects with modern faces.

A green city with sustainable projects

Cities should provide fresh air with bright blue sky. They should not only present transportation options by motor vehicles but also opportunities for walking to your destination. For several years what counted most while organizing international congresses were comfort, luxury and infrastructure of that city. However, as environmental issues such as global warming, greenhouse gasses, and air pollution are taken into consideration a lot more, congress tourism has definitely to respond.

Istanbul Metropolitan Municipality (İBB) is one of the major foundations that give high importance to sustainable environment. As for the air pollution measurements, İBB set up an online system that evaluates the pollution of different zones of Istanbul every day. Not only İBB authorities but also every citizen can check their neighborhood's pollution values. This enables the authorities to take preemptive solutions. Since Istanbul is a city of seas, water pollution is inspected from the sea and also by helicopters. İBB also has an online system and a call center for the waste oils where the assigned people go to Istanbul residents' home and pick up the wastes. "Metrobüs"; busses with special lines that started giving service in 2007 has many advantages in terms of sustainability. According to a report that is published by EMBARQ Center for Sustainable Transport in İstanbul, Metrobüs system has reduced the bus management costs by 23% and has supplied 9% in road safety. The report also mentions reduction on travel durations by 64%. İstanbul is also developing its bicycle lanes in the recent years. With 36 kilometers of bicycle lanes – 18 on the European and 18 on the Asian side – İstanbul visitors can ride their own bikes and also rent bicycles along their travel. IBB has plans to longer the distance in the future.

As the host of the 5th World Water Forum in 2009, İstanbul put environmental concerns at the forefront of its agenda. Incentives, sustainability in the meetings, events and the conference industry in general have become a key issue for meeting planners, national associations and corporations in the city. İstanbul Metropolitan Municipality (IBB) and the Governorship of İstanbul assist to meeting planners in order to organize environmentally responsible practices. Bureau Veritas and the Turkish Hotels and Investors Association (TUROB) came together to give a green light to “The Hotel Greening Project” in order to move the environmental agenda forward with İstanbul’s hotels by encouraging them to implement environmentally friendly strategies.

The pilot project came into life during the 5th World Water Forum’s “Green Forum Initiative” to raise awareness on hotel greening techniques and also to encourage participating hotels take the first step toward greener accommodations. 26 hotels volunteering to participate in the Hotel Greening Project were audited according to the measurements of energy efficiency, water conservation and waste management practices, among other criteria. Hotels attaining a minimum standard received a certificate from Bureau Veritas and the GFI. Top performers in specific star categories received the “Green Steps Award”.

GREEN VENUE AND ACCOMMODATION

ICVB supports green initiatives, in order to maintain that the city of İstanbul can easily and quickly move forward on the corporate social responsibility front. Several meeting venues in İstanbul lead a variety of initiatives that create a natural environment, reduce energy usage and use minimal non-renewable resources. Some of these initiatives are:

- Maximum natural light
- Walking distance to hotels
- Heat insulation
- “Energy Smart Lighting” within venues such as LED lightening system that provides energy savings and efficiency
- Water purification

system enabling consumption of pipe water

- Environmentally-friendly technologies
- Congress facilities located in the city center offer delegates the opportunity of walking
- Easily accessible public transportation
- Recycling bins for papers, plastics, glasses placed within the venues
- Several venues employ a system for distilling waste oils in the kitchens
- Recycling pens are being used at the meeting rooms
- Smoking is banned in all closed public spaces within the venues

İstanbul has many four and five stars-hotels and meeting venues that acquire different certificates highlighting their environment friendly practices and technologies.

In addition to all these important notes; meeting planners, congress organizers, corporations and associations can help promoting green efforts in İstanbul by contributing to reforestation and other environmental cleaning projects led by NGOs. Venues and hotels in İstanbul predominantly use the food that is produced in locally in İstanbul and Turkey. Therefore this measure adds more sustainability to the environment by decreasing transportation.

Outstanding Metropolis: Istanbul

Byzantium, Augusta Antonina, Dersaadet, Asitane, Constantinople, Konstantiniye... Istanbul had many different names and hosted many different cultures during its history. Its name was officially changed to Istanbul in 1930. No other city in the world provides the option of walking from one continent to another with a magnificent view. Moreover not any other city in the world served as a capital to great empires. With carrying the title of one of the most popular cities in the world for hundreds of years one can only say that Istanbul is between the most famous metropolises of the world.

8th out of OECD's 78 metro-regions with its population size, Istanbul is literally a metropolis. Istanbul is a transcontinental city straddling two continents by its inland sea, Marmara. The city is divided into four regions and has a natural harbor, the Golden Horn. One of the world's busiest waterways, the Bosphorus, is situated in northwestern Turkey between the Black Sea and the Sea of Marmara. Connecting the two seas, Bosphorus also separates Istanbul to two sides known as European side and Asian side.

Istanbul is the largest populated city of Turkey with 14.1 million inhabitants. Also as the financial capital of the country, Istanbul's annual contribution to Turkey's GDP ($389.4 billion in 2013) is about 39 percent. Being the country's largest industrial center, approximately 35 percent of the country's industrial labor is employed in Istanbul.

19th edition of Futurallia, which will be hosted this year in Lyon, France on 4-6 June 2014, provides opportunities for establishing and growing international business networks as well as conducting one-on-one business meetings among professionals.

OVERVIEW

The traditional flagship of Divan Group's collection of fine hotels, Divan Istanbul offers travel connoisseurs a unique interpretation of luxury design and Ottoman hospitality. Carrying the signature of renowned Architect Thierry Despont, acclaimed worldwide for his bold re-imagining of public spaces, such as the Getty Center in Manhattan, and private ones, such as the home of Bill Gates, Divan Istanbul brings the same innovative style and state of the art luxury to the heart of this ancient and exotic city. Featuring elegantly appointed guestrooms and the warm, attentive service combining the best of East and West that is the hallmark of Divan Hotels, the completely rebuilt Divan Istanbul has an over fifty-year heritage yet is also one of Istanbul's newest hotels.

LOCATION

Divan Istanbul is located in the heart of Istanbul, close to Taksim Square. A short walk along broad, tree-lined boulevards is all that separates you from the best culture, nightlife and entertainment that Istanbul has to offer. Major corporate headquarters and shopping centres, as well as the Congress Valley's Lutfi Kirdar Convention and Exhibition Center, Istanbul Congress Center and Cemal Reşit Rey Concert Hall are just minutes away by foot. The Istanbul metro is only a brief walk from the hotel, and Ataturk International airport is 15.5 miles or 25 kilometres and only 30 min away by cab. Whether closing a deal or opening your eyes to the splendours of Istanbul--or both--Divan Istanbul holds the key to a fulfilling and relaxing stay.

GUEST ROOMS

All of Divan Istanbul's spacious rooms combine our signature mix of comfort, elegant design and luxurious convenience. Our graciously appointed rooms are a refined setting in which to relax, work, reminisce about a day spent exploring the city or simply to enjoy the moment. You will find it just as comfortable to work in your room as to rest after a full day of meetings or taking in the wonders of Istanbul. All of our rooms are 33 square meters

(355 sq. ft.) or larger but we believe outstanding comfort means more than just more space. It means fitness and attention to detail. If you need to focus on completing a project, try the handsome custom-built leather top executive desk, which is ergonomically designed to enhance your productivity.

Stay connected with our high-speed wired, and high-speed wireless internet connections.

When it is time to freshen up before drinks or dinner, you will appreciate your room's elegantly appointed bath, decorated in harmonious marble tones and featuring both rain and hand-held showerheads. All rooms provide the comfort of a King-size bed with Ottoman-inspired hand-beaten brass finials adorning the headboards. At your bedside you will find glass table-lamps by master artisan glassblower Robert DuGrenier, whose lighting is an integral part of a larger design statement that finds expression in every part of the hotel's décor.

SPA & WELLNESS

Puri Spa After a long day of touring the city, chairing meetings, or evaluating the latest scientific discoveries at an international conference, there is no better way to reward and revitalise yourself than with a visit to the Puri Spa. Experience a rejuvenating and cleansing tradition stretching back to Ottoman times and before as you luxuriate in the hamam.

If you are looking for something more active, try a workout at the fitness centre, take a Pilates class, or swim laps in our half Olympic-size pool. Afterward, treat yourself to a relaxing session in one of the saunas or indulge in one of our wide selection of beautifying facial and body treatments that will leave you feeling refreshed before heading to dinner at one of our fine restaurants.

MEETING & BUSINESS

The Divan Istanbul provides meeting facilities designed to an international standard, featuring six meeting rooms equipped with the latest audio-visual and meeting technology, augmented by the executive convenience of a helipad.

Whether in the two spacious foyers, the boardrooms, or the function rooms, the same attention to detail and decorative flair found elsewhere in the hotel has been brought to our impressive facilities, which are adorned with ancient Seljuk Turkish motifs and original ceramic art by Bedri Rahmi

Eyüboğlu and Füreya Koral.

Six meeting rooms ranging in size from 48 square meters (515 sq.ft.) to 350 square metres (3,760 sq.ft.) provide ideal venues for a variety of events from an exclusive board meeting to a fashionable wedding. With meeting spaces for groups of up to 300, the Divan Istanbul offers versatile meeting facilities in a variety of configurations, all backed by our professional meetings and technical staff. All meeting rooms feature the latest audio-visual technology, including video-conferencing and offer the flexibility of a variety of set-up alternatives.

PCO AND DMCs

rganising a specially-tailored and impeccable conference, event, reception, or large-scale meeting require specialised experience, qualifications and know-how. All these factors constitute the proficiency of Professional Congress Organisers (PCOs) in Turkey. PCOs in this country are the experienced companies active in organising conferences, congresses, incentive meetings, and large-scale events. Most of the PCOs in Turkey are located in İstanbul as the city hosts a higher number of events throughout the year.

The majority of PCOs have already gained a high level of recognition by international associations and corporations. The PCOs and Destination Management Companies (DMC) employ highly qualified, professional and experienced personnel that have the enthusiasm and the know-how to organise best events for meeting planners. The leading ICVB-member PCOs and DMCs are also members of the international associations such as the International Congress and Convention Association (ICCA), and the International Association of Professional Congress Organisers (IAPCO). Meetings at the top!

It is no coincidence that our company name is inspired by the famous mountain in the Himalayas with the summit most difficult to reach. That's because when we set out our business goals, we aimed to reach the top in service quality and customer satisfaction.

After each service we provide, we see friendly happy customers shaking our hands saying:

"Thank you so much, see you again next time...". This gratitude allows us to feel that we are well on our way in reaching our target. All of the customers we have provided services for to his day are our most valuable references.

If you are aiming for the top in your event of any kind, let's discuss our scope of services that help you reach it.

A PROUD HERITAGE...

Established in 1969, Karavan is one of the oldest travel companies in Turkey with over 40 years of experience in destination management.

As a family, however, the Baltazzi who own and still run the company, boast an even greater history of providing top class hospitality, having hosted both the Sultans Abdul Mecid and Abdul Aziz at their home in the mid 19th Century. Aristide Bey Baltazzi was officially recognized for his contribution in organizing the first international exhibition in Istanbul (The "Osmanli Sergisi" - "The Ottoman Exhibition") in 1863, which created the first tourism group movement ever to Turkey. Current President Cav. Alex Baltazzi was the chairman of the organizing committee of the first International Tourism Fair in Turkey, Meturex Izmir 1992 and 1993.

To these experiences and traditions, the Baltazzi family has added modern methods and technology to create the Karavan of today, with its 3 distinctive brands; Kmice, Karavan Travel and Karavanmar, each of them leaders in their sector.

TOPKON CONGRESS SERVICE

Topkon Congress Service has been organizing congresses since 1997. The company has handled a wide range of activities over the years, from one-day seminars to the complete management of week-long, international and national congresses for large number of people. Under their dynamic leadership, the "typical" profile of Topkon Congress Service has evolved enormously. In an effort to meet the needs of our clients, we broadened the range of services we offered within the company. We began to fine-tune our abilities to build scientific programs. We also developed a sponsorship program that secured industry support for the congresses. We are providing for all of the congress marketing needs: development of a distribution network, the research, design, production of both print and web-based promotion.

Our past success in event management has resulted in long-term relationships with several national societies for whom we have become the official Professional Congress Organizer (PCO) for all future National and International Congresses.

TOPKON WITH NUMBERS

Considering the meetings with 500 or more participants, our agency has organized 464 congresses with a total of 510.000 participants since its foundation as the year of 2013. The number

The Istanbul Foundation for Culture and Arts (İKSV) was founded in 1973 on the initiative of Dr. Nejat F. Eczacıbaşı with the goal of offering the Turkish public opportunities to experience the finest examples of cultural and artistic production from around the world and learn about new initiatives and movements. The general objectives of the foundation are to make Istanbul one of the world's foremost capitals of culture and the arts, to create continuous interaction between national and universal values and traditional and contemporary values via culture and the arts, and to contribute actively to the development of cultural policies. In addition to organising festivals, biennials and events in Turkey and abroad, the Istanbul Foundation for Culture and Arts is involved in: conserving traditional arts and cultural heritage, encouraging and facilitating artistic production in diverse disciplines, and contributing to the development of cultural policies.

One of Turkey's most established non-governmental organisations in the field of culture and arts is the Istanbul Foundation for Culture and Arts, which organises the Istanbul Festivals of Music, Film, Theatre and Jazz, as well as the Istanbul Biennial, the Istanbul Design Biennial, autumn film week 'Filmekimi', and the Leyla Gencer Voice Competition. Also active on the international stage, İKSV has organised festivals in major European cities since 2004 and the Pavilion of Turkey at the Venice Biennale since 2007.

In collaboration with nongovernmental organisations and cultural institutions in Turkey and abroad, the Istanbul Foundation for Culture and Arts takes part in co-productions and special events featuring world-acclaimed ensembles and artists, such as Roger Waters, the Bejart Ballet, Alvin Ailey

American Dance Theater, Kodo, Santana, Leonard Cohen, Harry Connick Jr., George Dalaras, U2, The New York Philharmonic, The Berliner Philharmoniker, and Stevie Wonder.

In 2014, İKSV will organise the 33rd Istanbul Film Festival (5-20 April), the 19th Istanbul Theatre Festival (9 May - 5 June), the 42nd Istanbul Music Festival (31 May-27 June), the 21st Istanbul Jazz Festival (1-14 July), and the 2nd Istanbul Design Biennial (1 November-14 December).

The 33rd Istanbul Film Festival will meet the film lovers with a wide spectrum selection expanding new feature films of 2013 and 2014, unforgettable classic films, masterpieces of master directors, films having premiered in Sundance and in Berlin International Film Festival, Golden Tulip and FACE Competitions to documentaries, and children films.

The 19th Istanbul Theatre Festival features around 100 stage performances of 7 foreign and 34 Turkish plays across 13 different venues. 33 of the local productions in the 19th Istanbul Theatre Festival's programme will have their Turkish premieres, three of which will be co-produced by the festival.

The 42nd Istanbul Music Festival hosts approximately 800 artists including Steven Isserlis, Isabelle van Keulen, Alexander Raskatov, Nelson Freire, Pepe Remero, Krzysztof Penderecki, Xavier de Maistre, and Yuja Wang as well as examples of world's leading orchestras Sinfonia Varsovia and Teresa Carreño Youth Orchestra of Venezuela in Istanbul.

The 21st Istanbul Jazz Festival welcomes the world-renowned artists of jazz, R&B and soul music. Katie Melua, Hugh Masekela, Manu Katché, Richard Bona, Chick Corea, Stanley Clarke, Danilo Perez, John Patitucci, Brian Blade, Brad Mehldau, Mark Guiliana and Cécile McLorin Salvant are among the names to be on the festival stage this year. The whole program of the festival will be unveiled in April.

Under the overarching title "The Future is Not What it Used to Be", the 2nd Istanbul Design Biennial asks, "What is the future now?" The Biennial invites designers to rethink the manifesto, harnessing this powerful and fertile genre as a platform for reconsidering where we have come from, where we are, and where we are going.

NEJAT ECZACIBAŞI BUILDING

2009 marked a turning point in İKSV's history when it moved its headquarters to Deniz Palas, in Şişhane. Renamed the Nejat Eczacıbaşı Building in 2011, the seven-storey building of 4,200 square metres is home to the foundation's offices as well as a cafe, a restaurant, the performance venue

Asitane Restaurant is located in Edirnekapı, considered by many to be one of the most important areas of historical Istanbul. The neighborhood is a typical quiet Turkish “mahalle” within a short walking distance to important Byzantine monuments. The restaurant itself lies in the shadow of the mighty Chora Church, which is famous for its mosaics and is one of the most important and well kept buildings of the Byzantine era. Located high up in the foot hills overlooking the Golden Horn, Asitane opened its doors in 1991, together with the Kariye Hotel, a restored 19th century traditional Ottoman mansion. The restaurant, whose dishes reflect the eclectic nature of the Turco-Ottoman neighbourhood, was named Asitane, one of the many names given to Istanbul throughout the reign of the Ottoman Empire. Extensive research was undertaken six months prior to the opening of the restaurant as kitchen registries deep from the archives of Topkapı and Dolmabahçe Palaces were scoured for recipes, and relevant documentation was found in Istanbul’s Beyazit and Millet libraries. Additional important sources of information for the duration of the preparation period were dug up using old Ottoman dictionaries, the written historic accounts of various statesmen, medical practitioners and soldiers. After 20 years in hospitality, Asitane now boasts an impressive archive comprised of over 450 forgotten sweet and savory recipes, which are prepared in keeping with the cooking methods of 500 years ago. The current menu features dishes originally prepared for the sumptuous celebration feast given for Sultan Suleiman the Magnificent’s two sons, Bayezid II and Şah Cihangir, at Edirne Palace in November 1539 as well as classic dishes of Turkish cuisine. The restaurant periodically offers themed menus such as “The Age of Sultan Mehmet the Conqueror”, “Ottoman Aphrodisiacs”, “Fish and Seafood Ottoman Style” as part of its mission to introduce the tastes of a bygone era to all. Asitane also offers a large selection of fine Turkish wines to accompany this historic feast. Asitane is open everyday from 12:00 am till 23:30, and has a capacity of serving 120 guests indoors during winters, 180 guests at its beautiful garden in summers. Additionally the restaurant caters to special events and functions.

THE HISTORICAL AND LUXURIOUS ART OF BATHING

The Ayasofya (Hagia Sophia) Hürrem Sultan Hamam in Istanbul was designed and built by Mimar Sinan, the chief Ottoman architect. It was built by the order of Sultan Suleiman the Magnificent for his wife Hürrem Sultan (Roxelana) in the 16th century (1556-1557 AD). It was built where the ancient public baths of Zeuxippus (100-200 AD) used to stand, between the Blue Mosque and the Hagia Sophia. The area is also particularly significant as the site where the Temple of Zeus once stood.

Ayasofya Hürrem Sultan Bath which was commissioned in 2008 with build-operate-transfer model was restored according to its original features by a large investment. Ayasofya Hürrem Sultan Bath, which preserved its unique structure for 450 years opened a new era in Turkish Bath architecture and has the title of being the first structure where women and men sections are on the same axis.

Beylerbeyi Palace was thought to serve as a summer residence of Ottoman sultans and a state guest house to entertain the foreign heads of state and sovereigns and it was constructed on demand of the sultan of the period, Sultan Abdülaziz (1861 - 1876). There are total 6 halls, 24 rooms, 1 hamam and 1 bathroom at two storeys. Beylerbeyi Palace, which was constructed as a mixture of Western and Eastern styles, has the layout characteristics of traditional Turkish House with Harem and Mabeyn Sections.

Two Sea Kiosks were built as double, one belonging to Mabeyn and the other to Valide Sultan (Harem); the kiosks have the appearance of a garden pergola. The kiosks, which are one of the most interesting design examples of the new palace were identified in the archives by the names, pointing out the originality of the design, as Çadır Köşkleri (Tent Kiosks), Nevresm (new design, new model). Octagonal covers of the kiosks are decorated with different animal figures.

Beylerbeyi Palace is also an important artifact in terms of its location within the landscape and is one of the most distinguished examples of coast palaces. Beylerbeyi Palace, which is located at the Anatolian side of Bosphorus at Üsküdar district is in a large garden. The garden of Beylerbeyi Palace has the appearance of a rich coppice forest with terrace gardens at the back. Marble Kiosk is one of the buildings from the period of Sultan Mahmud II, which survived until today. It was given this name due to its marble covered surfaces. As we learn from the references of the period another names of the kiosk are Serdab and Mahmud Kiosk. It was given the name Serdáb since it is buried into the fourth terrace behind the pool.

Yellow Kiosk, which is located on the fourth terrace garden of Beylerbeyi

Palace, considering with the area it is located on, may be thought to be used for resting purposes. It is on the northeast of the land of the palace, on the fourth terrace.

Ahır (Stable) Kiosk is located on the last terrace of the Palace's garden, slightly farther from the Marble Kiosk. It has some characteristics reflecting the attitude of Ottoman towards horse culture. In its entrance, there are figures of horses and other animals on the ceiling. Stable section consists of total 20 divisions on both sides. There are reliefs with horse head and eye figures on the chandeliers and other elements.

Dolmabahçe Palace was built by Sultan Abdulmecid (1839-1861) who was the thirty first Ottoman Sultan. The palace, whose construction commenced on June 13th, 1843, was brought into use on June 7th, 1856, upon completion of surrounding walls.

The palace mainly consists of three parts, named as the Imperial Mabeyn (State Apartments), Muayede Salon (Ceremonial Hall) and the Imperial Harem. The Imperial Mabeyn was allocated for administrative affairs of the state, Imperial Harem was allocated for private lives of the sultan and his family and the Muayede Salon, placed between these two sections, was allocated for exchanging of bayram greetings of sultan with dignitary statesmen and for some important state ceremonies. The main building is three storey including the basement on the side which is parallel to sea and it is four storey at the land side involving the Harem quarters with the musandira (garret) storeys. Evident Western influences, observed at the style, details and ornaments, are reflections of the esthetical values, changed through the last period of the Imperial.

The outside of the building is made of stone, the interior walls are made of brick and the floors are made of wood. It has a usable floor area of 45,000 square meters, 285 rooms, 44 reception rooms and 6 hamams.

Dolmabahçe Palace is one under Western influence and was constructed modeling the European palaces, attention was paid to build the Harem as a separate section -although not strictly as in the past- considering its functional construction and indoor structure.

Dolmabahçe Palace, hosted 6 sultans at intervals and also the last Ottoman Caliph Abdulmecid Efendi from 1856 when it was put into service, until the abolition of the caliphate in 1924. The palace was used as Presidency office between 1927-1949. Gazi Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, the founder of our Republic, used Dolmabahçe Palace for his studies at İstanbul between 1927-1938 and died in this palace. The Palace which was partially open to protocol and visits between 1926-1984 and was opened to visit as a "museum-palace" from 1984.

Despite being home to the world's oldest vineyards and olive oil production, Turkey is often overlooked in favor of Greece and Italy when it comes to regional artisanal produce. MINIATURK

How long would it take you to go from Selimiye Mosque in Edirne to İshak Paşa Palace in Doğubeyazıt? Or from the Sümela Monastery in Trabzon to the Yivli Minaret in Antalya? These historic attractions are located at opposite ends of Turkey. So, what would you say if we told you that you could see all of these places in just a couple of hours?

But there's more. On the same day, you can see the house in Thessalonica where Turkey's founder Atatürk was born and the Mescid-i Aksa in Jerusalem. Because they are situated next to each other. The Mausoleum of Mevlana in Konya, the Halicarnassus Mausoleum that is now in the British Museum, the Altar of Zeus found in the Pergamon Museum, Atatürk's Mausoleum, Süleymaniye Mosque... There is a place in İstanbul where you can see all these attractions: Turkey's first and only miniature park Miniaturk. Located on the banks of the Golden Horn, Miniaturk covers a total area of 60.000 square meters (650.000 sq ft). It is one of the world's largest miniature parks with its 15.000 square meters (160.000 sq ft) model area.

Fun and charm are hidden in every corner of this city.

Feel the History in Istanbul

Look around in Istanbul and you will see marvelous buildings with the touch of the best architects of their time, the sparkling lights of the Bosphorus Bridge, the elegant blue tiles of mosques, and , the mosaics of Christianity.

Istanbul, one of the most ancient cities in the world, surely deserves to be called “an open air museum”. With its 8,500 years of history, the city had various names such as Byzantium, Augusta Antonina, Dersaadet, Asitane, Constantinople, and Konstantiniye, and was eventually named Istanbul in 1930.

According to records, the city is founded by colonists led by Byzas in 7 BC. Once settled by Byzantines, the city became the trade and commerce center. In 330 AD, Constantine I allowed the Christianity to the public. In 1453 Sultan Mehmet II conquered the city which served as the Ottoman Empire’s capital until 1923, when the founder of the Republic of Turkey Mustafa Kemal Atatürk moved it to Ankara.

All of these historical empires created their own arts, architects and monuments. The old city area in İstanbul – now called “Sultanahmet” – is where those rulers mostly built their cultural, social and political life. Built by the order of Byzantine Emperor Justinian I in the 6th century, Hagia Sophia (Ayasofya), the Church of Holy Spirit, includes pagan pillars taken from Ephesus and the Temple of Artemis and precious mosaics of Christianity and Islam. Hagia Sophia is converted into a mosque following the conquest of Istanbul. Since 1935, the building facilitates as a museum.

In front of Hagia Sophia stands the magnificent Blue Mosque, built in 1617 upon the order of Sultan Ahmet I. It is the only mosque with six minarets. Originally named as the Sultanahmet Mosque, it is also known as the Blue Mosque due to its handmade blue and turquoise porcelain tiles brought from İznik.

The primary residence for Ottoman Sultans for almost 400 years, Topkapi Palace is a large complex with hundreds of rooms and chambers built as a fine example of Ottoman architecture. The Palace Museum contains many holy relics of the Muslim world and Ottoman miniatures, Islamic calligraphy as well as Ottoman jewellery. Built as a reservoir to hold significant water storage for the Hagia Sophia in the 6th century, then for the Topkapi Palace in the Ottoman period, the Basilica Cistern is today a significant art and culture centre of İstanbul. The water stored here came from the Belgrade Forest via aqueducts. There are 336 marble columns each 9 meters long, in the Basilica, creating a very mysterious atmosphere. There is also a Medusa head and a Gorgon head under the two columns in the Cistern. Walking down the once The Hippo-

The Obelisk of Theodosius

will come across the 25-meter high Obelisk of Theodosius - an ancient Egyptian obelisk of Pharaoh Tutmoses III that is re-erected in the Hippodrome of Constantinople by the Roman emperor Theodosius I. The Egyptian inscriptions celebrate Tutmoses III's victories over the Mesopotamia area. Hippodrome area was a circus that was the sporting and social center of the city during the Byzantine rule. It was built between 203 to 330 AD dates with a length of 450 meters and a width of 130 meters. It is believed to have entertained 100,000 spectators at once. Now just like during the Byzantium and Ottoman reigns, many celebrations are organized.

Known as Hagia Irene, meaning "Holy Wisdom" the St. Irene Church was built by the order of Byzantine Emperor Constantine I. After the Ottomans conquered the city they built Topkapı Palace surrounding the Church of Hagia Irene, where it remained in the courtyard to be used as an inner armoury. In 1869 the Hagia Irene had been converted to be the first museum of the Ottoman Empire. The former church is mostly used as a classical music concert hall due to its fascinating acoustics.

After getting away from the Old City and taking a walk near the seaside you will witness The Maiden's Tower in the middle of the Marmara Sea in Istanbul. Also known as Leander's Tower, the Maiden's Tower is located in a small islet near the Anatolian shore of the Bosphorus entrance. The first fort built on the islet was by the Athenian General Alcibiades in 411 BC. After the conquest of Constantinople in 1453 the islet served as a watchtower. Yet there are many legends about the construction of the tower.

Galata Tower is built in 1348 by the Genoese. This medieval stone tower has become one of the most visited landmarks of Istanbul. The Tower served as an observation tower for spotting fires in the Ottoman period. In the Tower area there are many designer, antiquity and authentic goods shops.

Built in the 19th century the Dolmabahçe Palace has served as an administrative centre in the late Ottoman era. The palace is famous with its blending of Baroque, Rococo and Neoclassical style architecture blended with the Ottoman style.

Another marvelous palace is Çırağan Palace on the same avenue with Dolmabahçe. Built in 1861 by the order of Sultan Abdülaziz, Çırağan Palace has roofs and inner walls from wood and the outer walls of colorful marble. With a magnificent Bosphorus view, the palace now functions as a 5-star hotel.

Also as a culture capital İstanbul harbors important historical, arts and archeological museums. The Archeological Museums are consisted of three different museums; Archaeological Museum, Museum of the Ancient Orient and the Museum of Islamic Art. Opened in 1891, the museum has more than 1 million artifacts.

Considered to be one of the most beautiful surviving examples of a Byzantine church, the Chora Church is serving as a museum in Edirnekapi area in Fatih on the European side of İstanbul. Converted into a mosque in the 16th century in the Ottoman Era, now a museum since 1948, the Chora (Kariye in Turkish) is famous for its fine mosaics and frescoes.

Turkish and Islamic Arts Museum built in 1913 exhibits Quran manuscripts and religious books, again hand made carpets made of silk and other Anatolian fabrics.

Established in 1897 the İstanbul Naval Museum located in Beşiktaş contains an important collection of 20.000 military artifacts.

The Bosphorus is the strait that divides the city into European and Asian sides, and connects the Marmara Sea in the south to the Black Sea in the north. A very important strategic point, the Bosphorus has witnessed many wars during centuries. The shores of Bosphorus are lined with many beautiful houses and mansions. The historical peninsula is located on the European side near the Marmara Sea entrance of the Bosphorus, while Kadıköy, which used to house the summerhouses in the ancient times, is located on the opposite side of the Bosphorus. Frequent boat tours enable to have a closer look at the mansions and the glamorous Bosphorus area.

Enjoy and Educate Kids in Istanbul

Istanbul offers many options where the kids can spend quality time filled with education, while the parents enjoy their own tastes. The city features a wide range of workshops, museums, aquariums, and even a dinosaur park!

Miniaturk

Have you ever heard of a “toy museum” before? If your answer is “No”, then you should travel to the Asian side of Istanbul and head to Göztepe to visit the “Toy Museum”. Opened in 2005 in a beautiful several hundred years old mansion, the museum involves more than 4000 toys ranging from toy soldiers to metal cars, porcelain dolls and many more. The museum also stages theatre plays and organises games several days of the week.

Miniaturk is an open park museum containing miniature models of many historical structures of Istanbul as well as of Anatolia and Ottoman territories outside Turkey. Opened in 2003, the park contains 122 models including the Blue Mosque, the Bosphorus Bridge and many other monuments.

Another museum in the European side

“Rahmi Koç Museum” is also an attractive place for kids. In the museum the children not only discover but also attend several ateliers ranging from making their own cookies, statues to learning how to fold their clothes.

The Naval Museum in Beşiktaş has set up a special room for children where they can make puzzles about ships, steer in a vessel or play games about the navy.

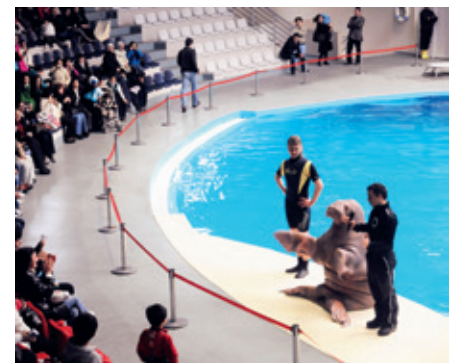

Istanbul is filled with many public parks. Yıldız Park near the Yıldız Palace, Parkorman in Maslak, the Küçükçiftlik Park in Maçka and Belgrad Forest in Maslak (all in the European Side) have wide areas for kids to play and all the areas offer many facilities for children. If your children love the animals and water, then aquariums are the place to visit. Istanbul has many aquariums but two of main are “Turkuazoo” in Bayrampaşa and “Istanbul Akvaryum” in Florya; both in the European area where children can “touch” behind the glass sharks, octopuses and many other animals.

Also in Dolphinarium in Eyüp, children can have the chance to watch the dolphins while making tricks or even to swim with them.

“Vialand” that is located also in Eyüp, is a mass theme and amusement park that involves tens of facilities from 4D cinemas to water games, ferries wheels, driving activities or scientific discoveries.

Shopping malls in İstanbul provide many enjoyable activities and amusement parks for kids. One of them is the “Jurassic Land” in İstanbul Forum in Bayrampaşa. The biggest park in Europe with the dinosaur theme, children can see giant animals’ scale models, watch movies about their lives, play games, visit a museum and experience a scenario based tour while getting to know about dinosaurs.

Shopping in History and Modernity

East and West, tradition and modernity...
Istanbul's shopping variety with its traditional and modern products makes the city an attraction center for any kind of shopping lover.

Istanbul's shopping variety with its traditional and modern products makes the city an attraction center. Fabulous Turkish carpets made of silk, wool or cotton; precious jewellerys, authentic glasswares, traditional evil eye souvenirs and haute couture, trendy and creative products... The city has multiple shopping areas reflecting every era's characteristic traits.

Istanbul is the junction point of world and Turkish cuisine's multi-coloured traditional traits. Hence Istanbul provides a wide range of food choices originated from all around the world. With the magical touch of many civilizations and cultures, Turkish Cuisine offers to its visitors a very rich fusion. Foods, beverages and their consumption rituals are Turkey's one of the most important cultural projections and Istanbul is the junction point of world and Turkish cuisine's multi-coloured traditional traits. Offering Turkish tea is a proof of hospitality and many restaurants serve it after meal with no charge. Take Turkish coffee: the old idiom says that one cup of Turkish coffee is the answer of 40 years of friendship. No need to say that "kebab", "baklava" and "delight" are among the most famous tastes of Turkish cuisine. While "döner kebab" is a roasted meat on a revolving spit, Iskender Kebab is made of grilled lamb meat and hot tomato sauce served over pita bread with melted butter and yoghurt. Adana and Urfa Kebabs are cooked on a wide skewer. Şiş Kebab is made of cubic cut meat grilled on a barbecue. Surrounded by seas, Turkey is the place for seafood lovers. Bluefish, bonito, mackerel, sole, octopus, trout, picarel and specially cooked mussel with rice definitely deserve to be tasted.

Turkish Pizza Lahmacun

Börek is a layers of pastry filled with either meat, potato, cheese or vegetables. Lahmacun is a thin pizza with minced meat and onion on the top. Circle shaped and covered with sesame seeds, Simit is the guest of a beautiful breakfast with cheese and olives. Dolma made from vine leaves and rice came into life from Turkish people's emigrations.

Meal is eaten and its time to select from the long dessert menu. Traditionally the meal ends with a glass of tea, helping you to digest.

Sütlaç (rice pudding), muhallebi (milk pudding), kazandibi (white pudding with burnt surface) and tavukgöğsü (white pudding with peeled chicken breast) are milkbased desserts. Famous Baklava with pistachio or walnut, Ekmek Kadayıfı with clotted cream and Künefe with soft cheese are among pastry-based desserts. As for fruit-based desserts; quince, fig, pumpkin and pear wait to be tasted. A dinner table never lacks Turkish delight that are cube shaped confections flavored with flower or fruit essence, filled with different nuts and powdered sugar. Made from yoghurt, water and salt, refreshing Ayran is generally served with a meal.

TURKISH COFFEE

One of the traditions that should be fulfilled in İstanbul is to see the preparation of Turkish coffee and surely taste it.

Internationally famous Turkish coffee is made by mixing extremely finely ground coffee, water and if you wish sugar in a special coffee pot (Cezve in Turkish). The coffee should be finely grounded and this is mostly done in special shops that sell the coffee beans. Preparing Turkish coffee is like a ritual and requires patience. Once mixed, all the ingredients should be boiled over low heat. The coffee should be served in cups with wider at the bottom for the coffee seeds to subside. With the water and Turkish delight on the side, once the coffee is ready to serve, as the old Turkish idiom says, “it guarantees 40 years of friendship”. As it is understood, in Turkey offering a cup of coffee is an act of hospitality.

Coffee is introduced to İstanbul during the Ottoman reign in the 1517 by the Yemen Governor Özdemir Paşa. The coffee took its valuable place in the Ottoman Palaces and then the citizens started to taste the delicious drink too. The first coffee house (kahvehane in Turkish) opened in Tahtakale on the European side and then they spread fast all over the city. The coffee and the special cooking method introduced to the Balkans and the European cities during the Siege of Vienna in the 16th century.

More mystic than all after drinking the coffee, the pot is turned upside down and closed on the small plate. After the pot gets cold, some people claim to tell the future by looking at the shapes of coffee left on the pot.

İstanbul has many coffee houses and special shops that sell finely ground coffee. One of the most known Turkish coffee brands is Kurukahveci Mehmet Efendi in Eminönü on the European side of the city, producing coffee since 1871. Many museums around the city exhibit old coffee making equipments and different coffee pots specially decorated with colours and shapes of flowers according to the centuries they are produced in.

HEALTH HIDDEN IN OLIVE OIL

Produced by the “black pearl” Mediterranean olive, olive oil is used in many Turkish recipes, mostly in olive oil dishes and mezes which are ideal options for vegetarians.

Turkey is world’s one of the biggest olive producers and an international awards winning olive oil exporter.

Olive oil is also produced in Ayvalik and Bergama area that are located near Aegean Sea and exported to high number of countries. In 2013 Turkish producers exported nearly 100 thousand tons of olive oil worth almost 300 million dollars. Apart from the vast refineries you can also find olive oil produced by families and small, local Anatolian farmers which never have the same pure and beautiful taste.

Olive oil producers every year get international awards from prestigious foundations that evaluate the quality and pureness of the oil. This remarkable success puts Turkish oil in a higher rank and attains respect in the gastronomy world.

Both healthy and tasty, olive oil dishes are at the top of Turkey’s daily food consumption. Those traditional dishes can accompany very well to both alcoholic and nonalcoholic beverages. Turkish cuisine uses olive oil in mostly cold traditional dishes that are called “meze” (Turkish hors d’oeuvre and appetizer). Turkish kitchen offers a large variety of meze like Pilaki (beans, garlic, tomato, carrot and olive oil), Cacık (yoghurt, garlic, grated cucumber, olive oil) and Dolma (vine and cabbage leaves, olive oil). Aegean area is also famous with variety of green plants that do not breed in any other part of Turkey and all these plants are served with olive oil. Also most of the vegetables are cooked with olive oil and onion; and are called “Zeytinyağlılar”. Dipping the delicious bread into the olive oil crowned with natural thyme and tasting is a tradition as well.

Olive oil gets a special place also in fish restaurants where the fresh seafood from the Turkish seas is served with lemon and olive oil. Turkish producers even sell soaps made from the olive oil that give far more health to your hair and skin.

HAFIZ MUSTAFA CONFECTIONERY

THE HISTORY OF HAFIZ MUSTAFA

Hafiz Mustafa Confectionery was founded in 1864 during the first years of Sultan Abdulaziz's reign in the Ottoman Empire, at the shop number 86 on the street now known as Hamidiye street which is located in Bahçekapı-Eminönü, by Ismail Hakki Zade who had migrated from Orta District of Çankırı to Istanbul to become a moneylender. Ismail Hakki Zade began to make a candy called "akide" (rock candy) in the basement floor of his shop by using a grinding mortar. While Ismail Hakki Zade was operating the shop, his son Hafiz Mustafa was working as a volunteer muezzin at Arpacılar Mosque near the shop. He at the same time worked at his father's shop. It is known that it was Hafiz Mustafa who invented and produced "poğaç" (palm size buns with or without filling). He managed to attract more customers by making pastry buns along with candies. Hafiz Mustafa had improved himself on the business, and eventually took over the shop from his father. Between 1926 and 1938, he won 11 medals in Europe in the field of confectionery.

Hafiz Mustafa Confectionery, which is a 148-year-old business, had changed hands three times. Mustafa Altuncu, who took over the business from the fifth generation, wanted to try branching out during his 14 years running the shop, but he couldn't succeed due to the unfavourable conditions. However, the new owner of Hafiz Mustafa Confectionery since 2007 says that he prefers to focus on the single shop rather than establishing new branches. He states that his main target is to regain the customers of the shop that have been lost for various reasons.

Throughout the different ownership changes of Hafiz Mustafa Confectionery, the shop had undergone to various changes and renovations. Nevertheless, the shop's historical texture is preserved. The walls of the basement floor are covered with tiles, and the columns are veened. In addition, the pictures and the decorations on the walls are also helping to preserve historical texture. The most striking details are the "Hafiz Mustafa 1864" logo and the word "İstanbul" written in old Turkish and embroidered with golden glances which you can see on every service plate, glass and cup. You can even see these details on the tea cups and plates which is very pleasant. We believe that Hafiz Mustafa Confectionery, as a 148-year-old company, has a different place and importance.

Sightseeing Tours

You can choose from a wide selection of sightseeing tours to experience Istanbul's amazing artifacts and beautiful sceneries.

It is hard to know where to start when you are talking about sightseeing in Istanbul. Ancient Roman walls may lie alongside a glittering skyscraper, an ornate Ottoman mosque may stand only yards away from a Greek Orthodox church and a synagogue, and a fantastically modern bridge may lead you to a narrow cobbled street filled with centuries-old houses. Do you start with ancient history and artifacts, or do you prefer the Roman, Byzantine or Ottoman Empires? Istanbul was capital of all three. Few cities in the world have such an amazing array of treasures, from those made by man and collected or constructed by three of the world's greatest empires, to those made by nature, like the beautiful Bosphorus. This modern city's maze of narrow streets, climbing steeply angled hills and affording fantastic views at every turn, depicts the city's 8000 years of civilization. In Istanbul, the glorious Hagia Sofia, a Holy Roman Church built in the 6th century, the Ottoman sultans' lifestyles, who pressed here for over 400 years. Other must-sees include Dolmabahçe Palace, the Basilica Cistern,
